It's SUPERGROW, the prescription plant food that never adds anything you don't need to soil. You can be sure of that because SUPERGROW is based on our in-house computer analysis of your soil and your need.

If you've known us up to now mainly as distribution experts, SUPERGROW will change that. You'll look to us from now on as plant food specialists who provide you with the exact formula — out of 160,000 possibilities — that makes every crop a money crop!

These Steps Make Every Plant Food Penny Pay Off:

- 1 Using one of our four-wheel-drive vehicles equipped for automated soil sampling, trained personnel take soil samples for independent laboratory analysis.
- 2 The on-site computer at our nearest plant uses this analysis to select from 160,000 possibilities the one nutrient combination that gives you only what you need.
- 3 Automated controls at each location precisely meter out those nutrients for the plant food "prescription" that feeds your crop with no waste.
- 4 This means you spend money only for the plant food you need for the yield you want — never for nutrients already present — and you bank the rest.

TWO MEN YOU CAN CALL ON to begin your relationship with our Plant Food Division are Executive Vice President/Sales Harold Segars (left) and President Francis Willis (right).

For the fourth consecutive year, Clemson's football programs received a national award from the College Sports Information Directors of America. The 1975, 1976, and 1977 publications were tabbed among the top five in America by a panel of experts. Last year, Clemson finished second to Notre Dame, the first-place winner the last two years.

When Clemson and Furman faceoff this afternoon in Clemson Memorial Stadium it will mark Danny Ford's home debut as head coach of the Tigers. For most coaches it would be quite a unique experience to coach or play in "Death Valley" for the first time. But, for Ford working on Frank Howard Field is becoming old hat. After this afternoon's confrontation the 31-year-old Gadsden, AL native will have participated in games at Clemson as an assistant coach, a head coach and a player.

Yes, a player! Just check the 1967 and 1969 Alabama-Clemson game programs and you will find a photo of an even younger Danny Ford (number 83 in 1967 and number 78 in 1969). Clemson's new head coach played against the Tigers for the Crimson Tide and helped beat his present team, 13-10 in 1967 and 38-13 in 1969.

"I remember the 1967 game most because it was close the whole game," said Ford, the youngest division I head coach in the nation. "We had a good team that year with Kenny Stabler at quarterback and Dennis Homan as his wide receiver. But we had all kinds of trouble in the valley.

"The thing I remember the most about the game was being wide open on a long pass and Stabler throwing over my head. It could have put the game away for good, but I just couldn't reach it. As a result Alabama just hung on by a field goal."

Ford did have a hand in that 1967 victory. The sophomore tight end caught his only pass of the game, a nine-yard reception, on the drive that led to Alabama's last field goal. The points proved to be the margin of victory for the Crimson Tide team that went on to the Cotton Bowl.

Danny Ford's first experience as a player in Death Valley was a disappointment for Clemson fans, and the Tigers had better be prepared for battle today if Ford's first head coaching experience in Memorial Stadium is to bring happiness to the orange-clad contingent.

Furman had a very capable team last year, as the Paladins claimed a share of the Southern Conference title with an 8-3 ledger. The offense was very productive and the leader of that unit has another season. David Henderson is one of the outstanding quarterbacks in the nation this season. The reason for the Atlanta, GA native's fine grades are his impressive 1978 statistics.

According to a new efficiency rating system released by the NCAA, Henderson was the number-two ranked passer in the nation last year. Only Southern California's Paul McDonald scored higher in the system that takes into account more than just completions per game, the old standard. Overall, Henderson hit 59.9 percent of his aerals for over 1,700 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Some feel Henderson might not be as effective this year because the receiving corps of Jimmy Kiser, Greg Laetsch and Brette Simmons has graduated. The group combined for 90 receptions last season.

Mike Glenn, a gifted tailback does return to give the offense some support. Furman's leading returning receiver and rusher gained 734 yards on the ground and speared 16 receptions for another 163 yards.

Despite the loss of the top three receivers, Furman's strength lies in its offense. This will make for some interesting matchups because the Tigers' strength should be on defense.

Clemson has a returning letter-winner at every position on defense this season. The top players for the Tigers' stingy unit are defensive tackle Jim Stuckey, linebacker Bubba Brown and defensive back Rex Varn. The former two made All-ACC last year, while the latter is a pre-season all-conference choice in 1979.

Stuckey is the most renowned of the triumvirate, as he was chosen to Playboy Magazine's All-American team this year. The Cayce, SC native led the front-four in tackles last season with 87. The four-year vet might be the best at his position in America.

Brown led the Tigers in tackles last year with 170, including 102 over the last six games. His best effort was a 22-tackle performance against Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. Varn is Clemson's all-time leader in interception return yardage with 270. He has a pair of 90-yard interception returns for touchdowns in his career.

The Tigers have another Brown that everyone has heard of. Lester Brown, the stellar tailback from Myrtle Beach, SC is one of the reasons Clemson fans have faith that the Tiger offense can be productive again this year.

The senior could be called the Joe DiMaggio of Clemson football because he has quite a streak going. Brown has scored at least one touchdown in nine consecutive regular season games. During 1978 only Georgia, in the second game of the season, and Ohio State, in the Gator Bowl, were able to keep Brown out of the end zone.

"Rubber Duck" received national attention last season when he rushed for 17 touchdowns, the second highest touchdown total in the country. Only Heisman Trophy winner Billy Sims of Oklahoma crossed the goal line on more occasions. Brown has scored 26 touchdowns in his career, the third highest total in Clemson history. He needs only six TDs to eclipse Fred Cone's record of 31 set between 1948 and 1950.

The Clemson athletic department would like to express its thanks to Jerry Arp for all the efforts he gave Clemson University over the last 10 years. The former sports promotions director at Clemson was one of the prime reasons the Tigers have become nationally renowned.

Arp, who assumed the title Assistant Athletic Director in charge of Publicity at Texas A & M on September 1, is recognized as one of the nation's best in his field. He should be given much credit for the production of this football program.

Clemson fans have come to expect an excellent souvenir program. The College of Sports Information Directors of America have agreed with Clemson fans. COSIDA has chosen Clemson's program among the top 5 in the nation the last four years. Arp has been the editor of these publications every year.

Not only the athletic department, but the entire University, will miss him.

Hugh Mauldin starred in Clemson's 28-0 win over Furman in 1964, the last time these state-rivals played

"I had something any young, aspiring football athlete will never have — the opportunity to play for Frank Howard and the best damn university anywhere."

September 19, 1964 — the Fighting Tigers of Clemson took the field against state-rival Furman, which would signify the beginning of Coach Frank Howard's 25th year at the helm of Clemson football. The Tigers started the game with great expectations as to a possible easy victory. After kicking off to the Paladins, the Tiger defense forced a fumble at Furman's 31-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, I was wing back left, in motion right. I believe everyone in Death Valley was in the huddle. As the play developed, every Furman defensive man took off with the motion. When the ball was flipped back to me, I noticed a tremendous opening in the left side of the line, cut back, and dashed into the end zone untouched. I think everyone on the field was surprised, including me. Furman had defended us properly, but the quirk of fate had struck. After the game, I found out that in Coach Howard's first game as coach at Clemson, Walter Johnson had scored on the first play from scrimmage. Fate was on my side. History does repeat itself.

After the shock of the first play, Furman settled down, and due to Clemson's penalty problems, kept the game close until the end. Hal Davis scored in the third quarter, and I was lucky enough to score again on a 14-yard run later in the game to put us up by 21 points. Davis scored again on the last play of the game to give Clemson the 28-0 margin.

In finishing this column I would like to say to any young, aspiring football athlete that I had something they will never have — the opportunity to play for Frank Howard and the best damn university anywhere. They can play for the best damn university, and the next great coach at Clemson, Danny Ford.

THE CLEMSON UNIVERSITY TIGER BAND presents

A Salute to the Movie OLIVER!

By Andy Ronemus

Clemson University's marching Tiger Band will perform music from the hit movie "Oliver" during the halftime of today's season opener between Furman University and the Tigers.

The fans will come to their feet before the game as the band enters the field with a rendition of "Sock It To 'Em" followed by the famous Clemson fight song "Tiger Rag."

The Band, under the direction of Dr. Bruce Cook, then spells out the word "Tigers" as the new president of Clemson University, Dr. Bill Lee Atchley, performs the duty of dotting the "i." Dr. Atchley came to Clemson from West Virginia University where he was Dean of the College of Engineering since 1975.

The 185-plus marchers, including majorettes and flag bearers, enter the field during halftime to the tune of "Emperata" a work written by Claude Smith.

Mike Schwehr, a native of Medina, N. Y., then leads the band in "Who Will Buy," the first of four tunes from the movie "Oliver."

"Where is Love" is followed by "Oom-Pah-Pah," a unique piece that will be highlighted by the sousaphone section. The band ends with the Tigerettes and Flag Corps high-stepping to the tune "Food, Glorious Food" and "Consider Yourself."

F. Reeves Gressette, president of IPTAY, will make a short speech concerning Clemson's successful Scholarship program which raised over two million dollars last year.

This being the annual IPTAY game, the band would like to thank everyone associated with IPTAY who helped dress the band in their splendid uniforms, which are beginning their second year this afternoon, and contributed funds for new instruments for 1979.

A final round of Tiger Rag will prepare the fans for another exciting half of football and close out the halftime show.

Since its founding in 1893, the story of Clemson University has been one of constant growth in an atmosphere of tradition.

Where 446 students first met for courses in agriculture and engineering, more than 11,000 young people now pursue these two fields as well as architecture, education, forestry, industrial and recreational management, textile science, nursing, liberal arts and the social, biological, physical and mathematical sciences.

In terms of academic excellence, the quality of both students and faculty is high. More than two-thirds of the freshmen who entered Clemson this fall graduated in the top 20 percent of their high school classes. The University last year produced two Fulbright-Hays Scholars and a Truman Scholar, and The Tiger was named one of the best student newspapers in the country.

Several Clemson faculty members are officers in major professional societies or editors of major journals. The campus was also the site last year for national and international meetings of poultry scientists and biomaterials researchers.

Though Tillman Hall still stands as a treasured landmark and a symbol of Clemson's heritage, it no longer stands alone. Today the University campus includes 600 acres of academic buildings, student housing, service facilities and equipment valued at $161 million.

In addition to the nuclear campus, Clemson encompasses more than 30,000 additional acres of experimental farms and woodlands throughout the state. Major renovation of Sistine Hall and Memorial Stadium will be completed this year, and work will begin on a new $4.7 million Pee Dee Research and Education Center for Agriculture near Florence.

The University enters a new era as Bill Atchley takes the administrative helm as Clemson's ninth president. A strong, friendly leader, Atchley will set the pace for continued growth and leadership. Whether it's academics, research or continuing education for South Carolina's economic development, Clemson University leads the way in service to people.

A CONCRETE COMMITMENT

What better way to state a commitment than to put it in concrete. And that's exactly what our new manufacturing plant in Martin, South Carolina signifies — Sandoz' commitment to provide quality dyes and chemicals to the industries we serve.

This new facility, situated on a 4,600 acre tract, represents an initial multi-million dollar investment. The complex, aside from the production unit containing the latest in dye and chemical manufacturing equipment, also includes a modern technical support center, expansive warehouse, administrative offices, and the necessary peripheral structures for power, maintenance and environmental controls.

The Sandoz Martin Works is now on-stream about the same time other sources have changed in mid-stream. Sandoz is committed to the viability of the dye and chemical consuming industries. This is a concrete commitment.

Clemson's Athletic Administration

During 1978-79, Clemson University enjoyed its greatest all-around athletic year ever. This excellence was documented last August when The Knoxville Journal released its annual nationwide all-sports study. The researchers found that Clemson had the fourth best all-around sports program in the United States. Only UCLA, Southern California, and Arkansas scored more points than the Tigers.

And the man directly responsible for the Tigers' rise and continued success among the major college powers is Athletic Director Bill McLellan.

Only the third man to own the title of Athletic Director over the past 48 years, McLellan assumed his present position February 4, 1971, and since that date has directed the Tigers through their greatest decade ever of national athletic prominence. Four years in a row Clemson has been ranked in the top 25 in the all-sports poll.

In all, 18 of Clemson's 19 varsity sports sent an individual or a team to post-season action.

McLellan's dedication to continued growth and development of Clemson's facilities is another major reason for the Tigers' meteoric rise on the sports scene. During his tenure the Tigers have christened the Frank Johnstone Jervey Athletic Center, possibly the most modern and complete complex under one roof, increased the permanent seating of Clemson Memorial Stadium from 43,451 to 53,306, opened a beautiful swimming facility which will be the site of ACC Swimming Championships over the next two years, and constructed a nine-lane all-weather track where the '78 ACC Meet was held.

While he has erected an athletic powerhouse on the varsity level, McLellan has also developed a solid intramural program for the student body which attracts record participation every year. That's why Bill McLellan is recognized as a total athletic director.

A native of Hamer, SC, the 47-year-old McLellan was a two-time football letterman for the Tigers and a member of Clemson's 1952 Gator Bowl team.

He received his BS degree from Clemson in 1954, and his MS two years later.

After joining the athletic staff in 1958, he spent more than a decade with the Tigers as assistant football coach, Assistant Business Manager, Assistant Athletic Director, and Associate Athletic Director before his appointment to his current position.

But McLellan will be the first man to tell you that many knowledgeable people are needed to run an efficient and successful athletic department. Assistant Athletic Director Bobby Robinson is the catalyst of McLellan's group of responsible aides.

Robinson, now in his 10th year at Clemson and the 1st season as assistant AD, coordinates the business and financial needs for all 19 sports at Clemson. He also serves as the Head Golf Coach.

Danny Ford, Head Football Coach

Nearly 40 years ago Clemson University selected an enthusiastic 31-year-old to lead its football program. At the time, bushy-haired Frank Howard was one of the youngest head coaches in the nation. Now, 40 years later, the Tiger administrators have again selected a youthful mentor to guide the football team.

Danny Ford, who turned 31 last April 2, is the youngest Division I head coach in the NCAA. Despite his youth, he is more than qualified to accept his present duties, for he has been associated with some of the best football programs in the nation.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Alabama, Ford played for three consecutive Bowl teams under the legendary Bear Bryant. The All-Southeastern Conference tackle played in the 1968 Cotton Bowl, the 1968 Gator Bowl and the 1969 Liberty Bowl. An All-SEC Academic selection, he served as team captain of the Crimson Tide in 1969.

After receiving his B.S. degree in industrial arts, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. After earning a master's degree in special education in 1971, Ford was made a full time assistant for the next two seasons. And the Tide went to four more post-season games while Ford was on Bryant's staff.

Clemson's new mentor then accepted a position of assistant coach on Jimmy Sharpe's staff at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-75-76), before he was beckoned to Clemson by Charley Pell, who had just been named the Tigers' head coach. Pell and Ford had served together on the VPI staff for two seasons.

When Pell resigned as head football coach at Clemson for a similar position at Florida, the Student Affairs Committee of the Clemson Board of Trustees only considered one name as Pell's successor — Danny Ford. Ford not only had the backing of Pell, but also from members of the Clemson football team. He was then assistant head coach and offensive line coach of the Tigers.

After two meetings between Ford and the committee on the morning of December 5, 1978, it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that Ford should be named Clemson's 21st head coach.

At a press conference on December 10, 1978, Pell relinquished the head coaching duties of the Gator Bowl to Ford. And Clemson's bright new coach responded like a 20-year veteran.

The handsome coach conquered all kinds of adversity in leading the Tigers to a nationally televised 17-15 triumph over perennial national powerhouse Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. Few coaches in NCAA history have made a more celebrated or successful beginning.

Now Ford faces his first full season as a head coach. His 1979 club needs to fill many holes, especially on offense. But solving offensive problems is not new to Ford. He has been given much credit for molding Clemson's offensive scheme, which in the past two seasons, has scored 596 points and set countless offensive records.

The native of Gadsden, AL, is married to the former Deborah Anderson of Attalla, AL, and they are the parents of two daughters, Jennifer, 6, and Ashleigh, 4.

Danny Ford's first Clemson victory as a head coach. Players carry the NCAA's youngest major college head coach from the field after 17-15 Gator Bowl win over Ohio State in 1978.

RICK WYATT

Rick Wyatt is one of those players who makes the difference between being a good team and being a great team. The Honaker, VA native has been the leader of the special teams for the last two seasons.

RICK WYATT

The dean of the "suicide squads" is one of only six players on this year's roster who will be shooting to earn a fourth varsity letter. Each one has been well deserved because Wyatt is an athlete who can help a team in many ways.

Twice in his career he has made a key fumble recovery in a pressure-packed contest. In 1977 he recovered a Georgia fumble that led to Clemson's only touchdown in a 7-6 win. Last season against South Carolina Wyatt again grabbed a Gamecock bobble to turn around the contest in the early going.

Rick is an industrial management major.

BUBBA BROWN

Pound-for-pound, few players in the nation hit as hard as Marlon "Bubba" Brown. Clemson's All-ACC linebacker has had a reputation as a ferocious hitter since he arrived at Clemson in 1976. Despite his relatively small size (6-0, 210) Brown has made 290 tackles in the last two seasons.

In 1978 the Loudon, TN native dropped nearly 20 pounds to add quickness to his game. The result was a team-leading 170 tackles, including 102 stops in the last six games. His most notable performance came against N. C. State when Clemson's Brown was the major factor as the Tigers stopped the Wolfpack's Ted Brown. Bubba made 18 tackles, including three for minus yardage in Clemson's pivotal 33-10 triumph. For his efforts in Raleigh, he was named ACC Defensive-Player-of-the-Week and Sports Illustrated National Defensive-Player-of-the-Week.

Bubba is an industrial education major.

BILLY LOTT

Billy Lott will finally get his chance today when the Tigers face Furman in Death Valley. The Jesup, GA native has been a very capable backup to All-American Steve Fuller the last two seasons.

The 6-0, 189-pounder did a fine job last season hitting on .625 of his passes. But running is Lott's forte. He is not afraid to put his head down on the option play and drive for those extra yards. With the graduation of 25 lettermen, 15 of whom started, off the 1978 team, Lott's leadership will be invaluable this season.

The former Wayne County High School star had his finest game at Clemson in last year's opener when he hit on six of seven passes for 106 yards against The Citadel. Clemson fans will be happy if he can duplicate that accuracy mark in today's opener.

Billy is an administrative management major.

CHRIS DOLCE

Chris Dolce was one of the most pleasant surprises for the Clemson Football team in 1978. Few had even heard of the Verona, NJ native before the first game of Clemson's championship season.

A reserve until his junior year, Dolce quickly showed that he had the talents to be a starter. Clemson's starting right guard was a key factor in the Tigers' good start last season.

CHRIS DOLCE

When injuries and sickness crippled the Tiger offensive line in the first few games of last season, Dolce was one of the players that gave a little extra to pick up the holes created by the loss of Joe Bostic and Steve Kenney.

This season Dolce will be counted on for leadership. He and Jeff Bostic are the only returning starters in the offensive line, so Dolce's continued improvement will be a key to the Tigers' season.

Chris is an administrative management major.

Use common sense every day. Save a few dollars every month.

With what electricity costs to make and distribute these days, it's just not the dirt-cheap commodity it used to be. And, as a result, your monthly bill is probably higher now.

But remember: the amount of money you're billed each month is determined solely by the amount of electricity you use. And the amount of electricity you use is determined solely by you.

So use it wisely. Turn your thermostat down a few degrees in the winter, and up a few degrees in the summer. Switch off lights you don't need, and appliances you aren't using. Because whenever you waste power, you waste dollars. And it doesn't make sense to do that.

by Harold Warren*

Bill Atchley, a onetime pro baseball pitcher from Missouri, began hurling the biggest game of his academic career July 1 when he became Clemson University's ninth president.

And the lean, congenial, 47-year-old former dean of engineering at West Virginia University so far seems to have the Clemson Tiger faithful in the palm of his hand.

On paper, his credentials for the job are sterling. But more subtle factors made him "just tops" among the 338 candidates to succeed Robert Edwards, who retired after 21 years, said Paul McAlister of Laurens.

"Dr. Atchley was great all the way through," said McAlister, a lawyer and industrialist, Clemson alumnus and chairman of the board of trustees. "Everything you see on paper just glowed through all the way, in every way."

Historian William Steirer Jr., past president of the Faculty Senate and a selection committee member, saw him as "a very dynamic individual, a take-charge kind of person."

Atchley, who has a Ph.D. in engineering, won praise as the dean of engineering since 1975 at West Virginia University.

The press secretary to West Virginia Gov. Jay Rockefeller, Scott Widmyer, said Rockefeller recommended to Gov. Dick Riley "that they tap the talents of this man if they can."

"He can be a real asset — and we're missing him," Widmyer said. "He's been the top science adviser to the governor (and chairman of the Governor's Commission on Energy, Economy and Environment). Rockefeller had great confidence in him."

Atchley himself says, "I've been asked the question a lot lately — why I want to be president of a university.

"I say I think higher education needs some common sense, and I'm just cocky enough to think I can bring some common sense. The ivory tower days are over."

In many ways he seems to fit Clemson like a well-worn baseball glove. Besides being big on engineering, science and technology, Clemson is South Carolina's major agricultural school, and Atchley owns a productive 500-acre farm in his home state of Missouri.

He was student body president and captain of his high school Tigers football, basketball and baseball teams before playing minor league ball with the old New York Giants.

"It was kind of ironic," he reflects, "that my first school presidency and my last have been with the Tigers."

4-DOOR SEDAN

At Honda we have never believed in making lots of different types of cars. But 1979 is a different kind of year for Honda. We've introduced two new cars. The Accord 4-Door Sedan and the Honda Prelude. You might say we've opened things up a bit. Literally.

Our new Prelude boasts a power-operated, tinted glass moonroof as standard equipment. The moonroof comes with a manual sunshade, like the window shade on a jetliner.

Not only does our new Accord sedan have four doors, it has a nice, big trunk as well. It also has a lever that allows you to release the lid from the driver's seat. So if you're thinking about buying a new car, take a close look at our new Hondas. And open the door to simplicity.

Thank Goodness Zack Mills was not blessed with outstanding gymnastic ability. For if Clemson's goodwill ambassador was a master of mounts, flips and dives he would never have been chosen as the Tiger, the most mischievous mascot in the ACC if not the country.

Traditionally, the last male cheerleader to make the squad is made the Tiger. Because gymnastics is a major part of a cheerleader's activities during a game, this type of athletic ability is stressed when selecting the team. Zack is not exactly a Nicolai Andrianov so the selection committee made Zack the Tiger.

The decision was best for all involved, and in reality being the Tiger was what Zack really wanted. "I became interested in cheerleading in the spring of '78," said Mills. "I had tried out for the varsity football team in the spring of '77 and played on the JV that fall. But as a 150 pound defensive back I did not have much chance of playing. However, I still wanted to be a part of the football scene. When Randy Addison, the 1977 Tiger, told me about cheerleading I decided to give it a shot."

"I started with the other cheerleaders on the line, but it was obvious from the early going that I was having problems with the gymnastics. But Joey Erwin, the head cheerleader, knew I had a lot of spirit and a flair for entertainment, so he made me the Tiger."

Entertainment is the key word when discussing Mills' role on Saturday afternoons. "My job is to add color and excitement to the game. I am there to entertain more than to lead cheers. People come to watch me do zany things and get involved with the fans and the game. That is my secret to being a successful Tiger — being active and involved in the game."

Saying Mills is active is an understatement. Few college mascots have ever been more involved in the overall college football atmosphere. Whether it be protecting the Clemson endzone with a toy gun by parading up and down the five yardline, appearing in an officials' jersey for the ceremonial toss of the coin, marching with an opponents' band, throwing chicken feed at South Carolina players during pre-game warmups, dancing with the Western Carolina Catamount during halftime of a basketball game, or being the first person to kiss Wake Forest's newly crowned homecoming queen, Mills is

Zack Mills -Clemson's Entertain- ing Tiger

By Tim Bourret

"My job is to add color and excitement to the game. I am there to entertain more than to lead cheers. People come to watch me do zany things and get involved with the fans and the game."

always looking for ways to entertain.

His most famous antic is Clemson's newest tradition. For every point the Tigers put on the scoreboard last season Mills would do a pushup. That sounds easy, but Mills did the pushups cumulatively. If Clemson scored a touchdown to bring their total to 21, Mills would do 21 pushups. Then, if the Tigers scored another touchdown, which they did on numerous occasions last season, Zack would do 28 pushups.

"I really can't take total credit for discovering the pushup idea," said Mills. "We saw the Pittsburgh Panther do it at the 1977 Gator Bowl. The Pitt fans really got into the counting of the push-ups, so we thought it would be another great way to get our fans involved. The Clemson fans really loved it."

Unfortunately for Mills (from an exhaustion standpoint anyway) it was the wrong year to begin such a tradition. Clemson set a school record for points last year, and as a result Mills had to do 1,344 pushups over the season. In his very first game, Mills set the single game record by doing 287 pushups in the Tigers' 58-3 victory.

"That might have been the most physically exhausting thing I've ever done," said Mills. "It was the first home weekend of the year so we partied all Friday night. At the game the 287 pushups in the 20-pound Tiger suit made me lose 15 pounds (the temperature was 82 degrees at game time)."

Toward the end of the contest, and with Clemson driving for still another score, Mills limped out onto the field in front of Charley Pell and, on his knees, begged the Clemson coach to stop the drive. The crowd loved it. Even in a state of exhaustion Mills has an ability to think of innovative ways of entertaining. Fortunately, the Clemson drive did stall, because Clemson might have lost its first mascot in the line of duty.

Mills has a knack for getting away with mischievous acts, but he does take some precautions. "Early in the game or during pregame festivities I do something daring to see how strict the referees are. For instance, at the toss of the coin if I get some nasty looks from the officials when I go out in my referees' jersey I tone things down a bit. The last thing I want to do is get a penalty called on Clemson because of my antics. But most of the time the officials get a kick out of it. It's just part of the college football atmosphere."

For Mills, this will be his final year as the Clemson Tiger. He doesn't have any big plans for the coming year because, "it's better to act on the spur of the moment. We never plan any stunts until the Friday night before the game. The element of surprise makes it go over better."

THE FIRST CHEVY OF THE '80s. CITATION. OUR MOST SUCCESSFUL NEW CAR EVER.

Ever since its introduction, people have been flooding Chevy showrooms across the country to see the 1980 Chevy Citation. And according to Retail Delivery Reports, 33,765 units were sold in its first three weeks, more than any new entry Chevrolet has ever introduced.

MID-SIZE ROOM FOR 5.

Citation's engine is mounted sideways, so the passenger compartment can be bigger. In fact, in EPA interior dimensions, Citation is classified as a mid-size car. With the back seat folded down there's room enough for two adults in front and 30 bags of groceries in back.

0 TO 50 IN 9 SECONDS FLAT WITH THE AVAILABLE V6.

In engineering tests, Citation goes from 0 to 50 in 9 seconds flat. That's with available 2.8 Liter V6 engine and automatic transmission. California figures not available. (Citation is equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.)

EASY ON GAS. 24 EPA ESTIMATED MPG. 38 HIGHWAY ESTIMATE.

That's with Citation's standard 2.5 Liter 4-cylinder engine and manual transmission. (Manual transmission currently not available in California. Calif. estimates lower.)

Citation's standard 4-speed transmission is made to conserve gas. It's an overdrive. And at cruising speeds the 4th gear lets the engine run slower than with a conventional transmission, helping to get impressive fuel economy.

IMPRESSIVE LONG-RANGE CRUISING ESTIMATES, TOO.

And Citation's long-range cruising estimates are just as impressive. 336 miles based on EPA estimated MPG (city) mileage figures, and 532 miles based on estimated highway MPG. Range figures obtained by multiplying Citation's 14-gallon fuel tank capacity rating by the EPA mileage estimates.

REMEMBER: Compare the circled estimated MPG to the estimated MPG of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on your speed, trip length and weather. Your actual city mileage and range will be less in heavy city traffic. Your actual mileage will probably be less than the highway estimate.

YOU'VE GOT TO DRIVE IT TO BELIEVE IT.

When you drive Citation you'll see what all the excitement is about. The way it feels. The way it maneuvers. The way it rides. And Citation's front wheel drive puts approximately 65% of its weight over the "driving wheels" to give you impressive traction on wet or snowy roads.

IT'S A WHOLE NEW KIND OF COMPACT CAR.

There's still a lot about Citation that we haven't mentioned. Like slip stream design to cut down on wind resistance and wind noise. The hidden cargo area in all hatchback models, so what's inside is protected from view. A dual diagonal braking system. And much, much more. That's why we encourage you to see your Chevy dealer and test drive the 1980 Chevy Citation today. This could be the car you've had in mind.

1980 CHEVY CITATION

Rex Varn vs. David Henderson Today's Showdown

By Tim Bourret

Few confrontations in the game of football are more interesting than the "cat and mouse game" between a quarterback and cornerback. Throughout a pass-oriented contest the cornerback tries to guess when the quarterback is going to throw short, while the quarterback attempts to time the defender's risky move and beat him deep.

One of these fascinating strategy struggles will take place in today's game when Furman quarterback David Henderson challenges Clemson defensive back Rex Varn. Both players have been widely recognized as experts at their respective positions.

During 1978, Henderson led the Paladins to the Southern Conference title with an 8-3 record, Furman's best mark since 1970. The Atlanta, GA native was named co-player of the year in the Southern Conference. Henderson was the major reason Furman set 10 offensive records, ranked seventh nationally in total offense and 14th in both rushing and scoring during 1978. The 6-2 signal caller connected on 112 of 187 aerials for a 59.9 completion percentage with 12 touchdowns and only six interceptions.

The most impressive statistics concerning Henderson were released this summer by the NCAA. In a new quarterback rating system based on yards per attempt, completion percentage and interception avoidance (instead of just completions per game as in the past) Henderson ranked second in the nation behind Southern California's Paul McDonald.

"David is one of the top passers in the country," said Furman coach Dick Sheridan. "He patterns himself after Roger Staubach on and off the field. He throws with exceptional accuracy and never forces the ball into a crowd. Henderson is our team leader and is very active in the FCA."

While Henderson chases Paladins of the past for many records, Rex Varn is already atop Clemson career record rankings. The 6-1 senior is the Tigers' all-time leader in interception return yardage with 270. The Martinsville, VA

David Henderson

Rex Varn

native is noted for making the big play. Twice in his career he has returned thefts over 90 yards for touchdowns, the last coming at N.C. State in the third quarter of a most important 1978 ACC contest.

But records certainly do not tell the whole story about Rex Varn. If there was a statistical measure for playing with pain, Varn would have set an ACC mark long ago. During 1977, after being named ACC player of the week for his performance against Maryland, he had an operation for an emergency appendectomy. Despite the painful operation, Varn was back in the starting lineup only two weeks later. Last year he played the entire season with a separated shoulder. In December he received the Brian Piccolo Award as the ACC's most courageous player.

"Rex Varn is the type of player you like to have on your football squad because of his positive contributions on and off the field," said Coach Danny Ford. "He sets a good example and motivates other players to play with pain and give a little extra when things aren't going too well.

"I've followed Rex's career since high school because I recruited him to go to Virginia Tech. He had a lot of talent as a quarterback, but was not that well known for his play on defense. No one could have predicted he would be as good as he is on defense. Ever since I've been at Clemson, opponents have tried to pick on Varn, and every time Clemson has come out on top. I hope our opponents keep trying to pick on him."

Varn will have a lot of pressure on him in today's game and the remainder of the schedule because he is the leader in the secondary. A starter since the fifth game of his freshman season, Varn is the one Clemson's secondary players look to. In most circumstances, especially when the game has been on the line, Varn has come through.

Passing undoubtedly will play an important part in today's battle for supremacy in the northern part of the Piedmont state. And the individual chess game between Varn and Henderson will be the key to that aspect of the contest.

BARBARA KELPE

By Jim Stovall

Committee chairman, sorority member and scholar — sounds like a lot for just one person. Yet Barbara Kelpe is all those, and more.

A friendly, attractive senior, Barbara Kelpe is an administrative management major, and calls Birmingham, Alabama home when she's not at Clemson.

Barbara is the Chairman of Clemson's Speakers Bureau, a group responsible for bringing guest lecturers and speakers to the Clemson campus. Talking about her position, Barbara says, "I love it. One of my favorite things is to be involved. I like to meet and talk with the speakers on a one-to-one basis."

Though she's met many noted speakers, such as baseball standout Jim Rice and comedian Kelly Montith, an incident with the Amazing Kreskin stays in Barbara's mind. She comments that the famed mentalist "couldn't remember my name."

Barbara is also a member of Blue Key and Mortar Board, two Clemson organizations that recognize students with outstanding academic and service records.

Beside all that, Barbara finds time to be active in the Delta Delta Delta sorority, where she served as president during her junior year. She is also a representative to the Pan Hellenic Council, the co-ordinating body that monitors and guides the activities and programs of the sororities. She serves as Membership chairman on that council, working with rush activities and "evaluations of how we can improve life in sororities."

Barbara is as lovely as she is hard working. In 1978, she was crowned Miss Clemson in the annual Beauty pageant.

Two of the main things that brought her to Clemson, according to Barbara, were the school spirit and the fact that "everybody was so friendly." Interested and friendly students like Barbara are what continues to attract people to Clemson University.

BOB FUZY

By Jim Stovall

His office in the Student Government Center displays a wide variety of photographs and mementos that recall his many activities of the past three years. Student Government President Bob Fuzy has been a much involved person during his stay at Clemson.

Bob is a financial management major from Fort Wayne, Indiana. He came to Clemson following in the footsteps of his brother, Jim. It was Jim who first interested Bob in the activities of Clemson's Student Government through its annual Homecoming festivities.

While working on Homecoming, Bob also established himself as a scholar during his first semester at Clemson, and was tapped for the freshman honor societies Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Eta Sigma.

In his sophomore year Bob Fuzy became involved in even more organizations. His experience from the prior year gained him the chairman's position for the Homecoming display committee, and he also served as a student senator from one of Clemson's dormitories. As if he wasn't busy enough, Fuzy joined the Tiger basketball team as a walk-on and proceeded to make the Atlantic Coast Conference honor roll for his academic achievements.

Junior year brought the Homecoming chairmanship — responsibility for all Homecoming activities — to Bob's shoulders. During the year, he was selected for membership in Tiger Brotherhood, Mortar Board and Blue Key, organizations that recognize outstanding scholarship and service as a student. The spring of the same year saw the successful campaign and Bob's election as Clemson's Student Government President.

Describing himself as "a striver," Fuzy says, "I'm always trying to better myself. I guess that it's the same with Student Government or grades. I'm always trying to do a little better."

That attitude of constant improvement has brought Bob a long way since his freshman year, all the way to the president's seat — who knows how far he can reach after graduation.

The tiger, a long-time symbol of strength and aggressiveness for Clemson University, now assumes another prestigious role. The Order of the Silver Tiger is a new giving level recognizing alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff who have given a minimum of $500 annually to the Clemson University Annual Fund.

Gifts to Clemson University enable deserving students to receive scholarships, add volumes to the Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, bring professors of distinction from other colleges and universities to campus for varying periods to share their expertise, and finance alumni professorships awarded to outstanding faculty members. These are just a few of the ways your gifts will be used to help secure Clemson University's future.

Your gift not only benefits the University, but also entitles you to become a charter member of the Order of the Silver Tiger, a new recognition program for your giving level.

As a Silver Tiger you will be recognized in the Clemson Honor Roll; honored at a special reception during the year and receive this distinctive Silver Tiger desk piece sculptured by Detter Hefner.

• IPTAY Award Winners

During the fiscal year 1978-79, Clemson's IPTAY Club experienced its finest year. For the fifteenth consecutive year contributions exceeded those of the previous twelve month period. IPTAY President Reeves Gressette and his staff, along with the more than 500 IPTAY Representatives, led the organization to a record setting year. An increase of almost thirty-eight percent above last year's contributions was realized and the organization achieved one hundred and fifty-six percent of its projected goal.
